DANIELS IN FAVOR

Views Expressed by Quoting Utterance of Former Secretary of Navy.

GUEST OF NORTH CAROLINIANS

Refers to Admiral Dewey as "Greatest of Living Sea Fighters."

Washington, January 24.—Secretary Daniels advocated a greater navy tonight in responding to the toast, "North Carolina in the Cabinet," at a dinner of the North Carolina Society of Washington. The secretary's views were expressed by quoting an utterance of James C. Debbin, a North Carolinian, who was President Pierce's Secretary of the Navy, and who declared the navy of his day was too diminutive to contend with those of other nations, insufficient to protect American commerce, and unquestionably too feeble to command the waters of the American coast.

"This splendid spirit of patriotism and of progress, avoiding an extreme Washington, January 24 .- Secretary

This spiendid spirit of patriotism and of progress, avoiding an extreme position, and yet looking to the steady upbuilding of our strength upon the sea, may well be an inspiration to all Americans to-day as it was more than half a century ago," said Secretary Daniels.

Daniels.

The quotation which Secretary Daniels read and which his hearers took to be a statement of Mr. Daniels's own views, follows in part:

views, follows in part:

"I deem it my duty candidly to express the opinion that our navy is not only too diminutive to be expected to contend fairly with that of other respectable nations, is insufficient to give adequate protection to our commerce, but is unquestionably too feeble to command the waters of our own coasts. Without naval strength, a six months' war with any nation with a powerful marine would result in the seizure of rich and valuable cargoes; in the destruction of fleets of merchantmen, and in plundering defenseless points along the coast, and would cost us far more than a squadron of invincible men of war. I regard this increase of naval strength not as a war, but as a peace measure.

this increase of naval strength not as a war, but as a peace measure.

"While I by no means suggest the policy or the necessity of so large a naval force as many powerful nations toster, yet it is desirable and attainable, too, that the American citizens should gather confidence, courage and energy from the reflection that he belongs to a government recognized by all as able to avenge his wrongs and vindicate his rights."

Having referred to Admiral George Dewey as the "greatest of living senginters," Secretary Daniels added:

"It is one of the most delightful inclidents of my administration to have Admiral Dewey, Dobblin's appointee to the Naval Academy, as president of the general board."

GRAND JURY FINDS

Ends Investigation of Deportation of Moyer and Tanner From Strike District.

Houghten, Mich. January 24.—A "no true bill" was reported to-day by the special grand jury which has been investigating the alleged kidnapping and foreible deportation of Churles H. Moyer and James Tanner, officials of the Western Federation of Miners, on the night of December 28.

Seventeen citizens were named in the presentment, which covered only the alleged assault on Moyer in Hancock. It developed that Special Prosecutor Nichols did not seek an indictment for the actual deportation of Moyer and Charles H. Tanner.

Four other "no true bills" in the cases growing out of strike disorders were presented. One true bill was returned, but as the charge is a felony, it was not made public.

Mr. Nichols said afterwards that he had the charge is a felony, it was not made public.

Mr. Nichols said afterwards that he had explained to the jury that in his opinion the statute on Midnapping did not apply to the deportation of Moyer and Tanner because the union men were not forelbly sent out of the State. But were left to take their own course this side of the State line, und because there could be no possible claim that there was any intent to confine them against their will within the State or to hold them in service outside the State.

Twenty-accent witnesses were examined in the Moyer case, and the jury deliberated over it for two days.

The impossibility of getting witnesses to identify the men in the crowd that assaulted Moyer is said to have been the main reason a "no true bill" was returned in the case.

Tells Committee He Is Defamed as No Other Judge Ever Was.

CHARGED WITH FAVORITISM

Investigation Is Transferred to Savannah, Where Hearing Will Be Resumed on Monday.

Macon, Ga., January 24.-Investigaion of charges of official misconduct on the part of Federal Judge Emory Speer, of the Southern District of Georgia, to-day was transferred to Savannah, Ga., where they will be re-sumed on Monday morning. Many im-portant witnesses yet remain to be heard. Members of the subcommittee of the House Committee on Judiciary, who are conducting the investigation, to-day said that it probably would require another week to complete their

To-day's session was marked by anther dramatic outburst of indignation rom Judge Speer, who yesterday interrupted the testimony of United States District Attorney Alexander Akerman. This morning, when R. Col-ton Lewis, special examiner for the Deton Lewis, special examiner for the Department of Justice, who made the report upon which the charges against Judge Speer largely are based, charged that the accused jurist had shown favoritism to A. II. Heyward, his son-inlaw, in cases involving fees, Judge Speer sprang to his feet and exclaimed: "I have been defamed as no other judge ever was. I ask this committee to see to it that all the facts are brought out, so that the public may understand."

At the afternoon session George F. White, marshal in Judge Speer's court for twenty-five years, denied, that the judge ever had instructed him to "keep a Jury walking," so that a mistrial might be ordered. Testimony to this effect had previously been presented to the committee by other witnesses.

Mr. Lewis, Department of Justice examiner, to-day read a list of bankruptey cases in which fees had been paid to A. H. Heyward, or to the firm of Talley & Heyward.

The list contained more than forty cases. In all of them fees had been either paid to Heyward or Talley individually or to the firm of Talley & Heyward.

Important Question Involved in Case Now Before United States Supreme Court.

Washington, January 24 .- Incorporaion of companies may be completely revolutionized as a result of a decision by the Supreme Court of a case submitted to it to-day. The question involved is whether the exemption of the private fortunes of stockholders from the corpartion's debts stand good In other States having contrary laws.

In recent years Arizona has become popular as the birthplace of corporations, largely because that State allowed corporations organized there to exempt their stockholders from liability for the dabts of the corporations.

exempt their stockholders from Hability for the debts of the corporation.

A protest has arisen among creditors of Arizona corporations. This has taken concerete form in the case of the Wentworth Hotel Company, organized under the Arizona law, to build a hotel in Pasadena, Cal. The corporation became insolvent and its creditors sought to hold its stockholders liable for its debts. They claim the stockholders were liable under the California Constitution, which made stockholders of California corporations liable for their proportionate share of the corporation's debts, and further provided that no outside corporation should be al-lowed to transact business on more favorable conditions than California

The patient may look well, but in reality is fast loosing atrength by continued night sweats, fever and cough. These symptoms should be checked as quickly as possible. Eckman's Alterative is beneficial in checking fever and night sweats, and it has brought about many complete recoveries. Read this case:—

"Gentlemen:—I am writing you this testimonial that others may know what your Alterative has done for me. Since I was a very young woman I was a sufferer from Bronchits. I tried doctor after doctor, getting little or no benefit. Finally I had night sweats, weak spells and lost rapidly in weight, and my doctor told me if they were not checked I would have Lung Trouble. Miss Mary Korhamer, who is a friend of mine, recovered after taking your Alterative, and insisted that I should try it. I am now, after two years, perfectly well, strong and healthy."
